The Project Playwright is a local group comprised of published author and playwright Dave Hanson and film director Erich McGrew, invites local playwrights to pit their writing skills against each other over three rounds and a final on June 8, 9, 15, 16. The playwrights will be given a writing task at 9:00 PM in the evening and must submit a finished 10-minute play to a director and cast. That team will have 12 hours to go from page to stage and fully realize the play before an audience and panel that evening. The audience will vote and a panel of judges will vote and will have equal influence in deciding the winner. The winning playwright from each round will advance to a final round \(June 16, 2012\) during which the winner will be selected. Tickets are $10 per round or $25 for a four round pass.
